THE Publisher of the "Select Reviews of Literature," &c. avails himself of this opportunity to inform his Patrons, that, it is intended to make the work still more acceptable in the approaching year, 1812. Each Number will then be increased by 16 pages additional paper, and each Volume will be embellished by three best engravings, including the vignette title-page: all at the former price of Five dollars per annum. A greater variety of European Periodical works are also to be imported for this publication, and the former principles of strict impartiality in the selections, will still be maintained.

December 1, 1811.
